Considerations

- Always verify the caller following standard Verification Requirements before transferring.
- For a comprehensive list of phone numbers, reference the Quick Contact Reference Guide.
- For email addresses and further details, reference the Quick Contact Email List.
- Refer to the Genesys Phone User Guide for Transfer directions.
- For American National numbers and resources, reference the Contact List - ANICO

Agent Locator Program

Client requesting a new agent, whether they have an active existing agent or not Reference the Agent Locator Program Procedure to complete form.

Sales Transfers

Agents calling on future/potential business or for reasons noted in the next bulleted section can be transferred to AE Sales, AN Sales, EL Sales or AE of NY Sales queues.

Verify agents following standard verification procedures, including but not limited to, agent number or social security number.

- For agents not currently active, Customer Excellence should try to assist; however, if the caller has questions regarding their license status, transfer them to the Agency Team.
- For calls regarding technical issues, including systems not performing, please submit a Solutions Portal ticket for IT review. Do not transfer to Sales.

Calls regarding the following can be transferred to Sales:

- Advertising Templates and Ad Slicks
- Agents who are not currently appointed and would like to learn about our products with the intent to sell.
- MyPortal and other public facing website/software, including:
  - Assistance in Navigation
  - Assistance in completing an illustration
  - Assistance in completing a ReadyApp application
  - Requesting access to view commission statements
  - Requesting access to see list of active clients in MyPortal
  - Assistance finding Marketing or Sales materials
- Agents who want to discuss an email received from Marketing@american-equity.com
- Agent questions regarding their year-to-date production statistics
- Agent supply requests
- Business who wants to become an IMO (direct contract) with American Equity
- General questions regarding American Equity
- General Commission questions
  - Contract specific commission questions should be transferred to the Agency Team. See below for Agency Team Transfers.
- Historical credit rates, interest rates, or earnings information that is not contract specific

- Contract specific questions regarding annual statements, rates, or earnings should be researched and handled by Customer Excellence
- Illustrations for contracts not yet issued
  - Illustrations for in-force contracts will be handled by Customer Excellence
- Loyalty Rewards Program (formerly Gold Eagle Program), Partner Conference, agent events, contests, incentives, gifts received, etc.
- New product information
- Product training
- Questions regarding the Client Appreciation Luncheon
- Review of sales materials

In addition to calls from Agents, contract holders may call regarding sales materials. This is because the introductory letter for new contract holders includes the below paragraph:

If the purchase of your new annuity contract replaced an existing life insurance policy or annuity contract, your agent has represented to us that he/she has provided you with copies of all sales materials used during the sales process. We suggest you keep these materials with your new contract. Should you have any questions about these materials, or if your agent did not leave copies with you, please contact our compliance department at the phone number below, or send us an email at compliance@american-equity.com.

If a client calls in requesting the sales materials because their agent did not provide them during the sales process, transfer the call to marketing or if the request was written, email sales@american-equity.com. In the email, let them know that the client is requesting sales material for their contract. Include the product that the contract was issued with and contract number.

Marketing will send all requested sales brochures to the client.
